Notes to Certificate - Land Tax

Certificate No: 94986185

Power to issue Certificate

1. Pursuant to section 95AA of the Taxation Administration Act 1997, the Commissioner of State Revenue must issue a Property Clearance Certificate (Certificate) to an owner, mortgagee or bona fide purchaser of land who makes an application specifying the land for which the Certificate is sought and pays the application fee.

Amount shown on Certificate

2. The Certificate shows any land tax (including Vacant Residential Land Tax, interest and penalty tax) that is due and unpaid on the land described in the Certificate at the date of issue. In addition, it may show:
 - Land tax that has been assessed but is not yet due,
 - Land tax for the current tax year that has not yet been assessed, and
 - Any other information that the Commissioner sees fit to include, such as the amount of land tax applicable to the land on a single holding basis and other debts with respect to the property payable to the Commissioner.

Land tax is a first charge on land

3. Unpaid land tax (including Vacant Residential Land Tax, interest and penalty tax) is a first charge on the land to which it relates. This means it has priority over any other encumbrances on the land, such as a mortgage, and will continue as a charge even if ownership of the land is transferred. Therefore, a purchaser may become liable for any such unpaid land tax.

Information for the purchaser

4. Pursuant to section 96 of the Land Tax Act 2005, if a purchaser of the land described in the Certificate has applied for and obtained a certificate, the amount recoverable from the purchaser by the Commissioner cannot exceed the amount set out in the certificate, described as the "Current Land Tax Charge and Vacant Residential Land Tax Charge" overleaf. A purchaser cannot rely on a Certificate obtained by the vendor.

Information for the vendor

5. Despite the issue of a Certificate, the Commissioner may recover a land tax liability from a vendor, including any amount identified on this Certificate.

Apportioning or passing on land tax to a purchaser

6. A vendor is prohibited from apportioning or passing on land tax including vacant residential land tax, interest and penalty tax to a purchaser under a contract of sale of land entered into on or after 1 January 2024, where the purchase price is less than $10 million (to be indexed annually from 1 January 2025, as set out on the website for Consumer Affairs Victoria).

General information

7. A Certificate showing no liability for the land does not mean that the land is exempt from land tax. It means that there is nothing to pay at the date of the Certificate.
8. An updated Certificate may be requested free of charge via our website, if:
 - The request is within 90 days of the original Certificate's issue date, and
 - There is no change to the parties involved in the transaction for which the Certificate was originally requested.

Certificate No: 94986185

Power to issue Certificate

1. Pursuant to section 95AA of the Taxation Administration Act 1997, the Commissioner of State Revenue must issue a Property Clearance Certificate (Certificate) to an owner, mortgagee or bona fide purchaser of land who makes an application specifying the land for which the Certificate is sought and pays the application fee.

Amount shown on Certificate

2. The Certificate shows any commercial and industrial property tax (including interest and penalty tax) that is due and unpaid on the land described in the Certificate at the date of issue.

Australian Valuation Property Classification Code (AVPCC)

3. The Certificate may show one or more AVPCC in respect of land described in the Certificate. The AVPCC shown on the Certificate is the AVPCC allocated to the land in the most recent of the following valuation(s) of the land under the Valuation of Land Act 1960:
 - a general valuation of the land;
 - a supplementary valuation of the land returned after the general valuation.
4. The AVPCC(s) shown in respect of land described on the Certificate can be relevant to determine if the land has a qualifying use, within the meaning given by section 4 of the Commercial and Industrial Property Tax Reform Act 2024 (CIPT Act). Section 4 of the CIPT Act provides that land will have a qualifying use if:
 - the land has been allocated one, or more than one, AVPCC in the latest valuation, all of which are in the range 200-499 and/or 600-699 in the Valuation Best Practice Specifications Guidelines (the requisite range);
 - the land has been allocated more than one AVPCC in the latest valuation, one or more of which are inside the requisite range and one or more of which are outside the requisite range, and the land is used solely or primarily for a use described in an AVPCC in the requisite range; or
 - the land is used solely or primarily as eligible student accommodation, within the meaning of section 3 of the CIPT Act.

Commercial and industrial property tax information

5. If the Commissioner has identified that land described in the Certificate is tax reform scheme land within the meaning given by section 3 of the CIPT Act, the Certificate may show in respect of the land:
 - the date on which the land became tax reform scheme land;
 - whether the entry interest (within the meaning given by section 3 of the Duties Act 2000) in relation to the tax reform scheme land was a 100% interest (a whole interest) or an interest of less than 100% (a partial interest); and
 - the date on which the land will become subject to the commercial and industrial property tax.
6. A Certificate that does not show any of the above information in respect of land described in the Certificate does not mean that the land is not tax reform scheme land. It means that the Commissioner has not identified that the land is tax reform scheme land at the date of issue of the Certificate. The Commissioner may identify that the land is tax reform scheme land after the date of issue of the Certificate.

Change of use of tax reform scheme land

7. Pursuant to section 34 of the CIPT Act, an owner of tax reform scheme land must notify the Commissioner of certain changes of use of tax reform scheme land (or part of the land) including if the actual use of the land changes to a use not described in any AVPCC in the range 200-499 and/or 600-699. The notification must be given to the Commissioner within 30 days of the change of use.

Commercial and industrial property tax is a first charge on land

8. Commercial and industrial property tax (including any interest and penalty tax) is a first charge on the land to which the commercial and industrial property tax is payable. This means it has priority over any other encumbrances on the land, such as a mortgage, and will continue as a charge even if ownership of the land is transferred. Therefore, a purchaser may become liable for any unpaid commercial and industrial property tax.

Information for the purchaser

9. Pursuant to section 27 of the CIPT Act, if a bona fide purchaser for value of the land described in the Certificate applies for and obtains a Certificate in respect of the land, the maximum amount recoverable from the purchaser is the amount set out in the Certificate. A purchaser cannot rely on a Certificate obtained by the vendor.

Information for the vendor

10. Despite the issue of a Certificate, the Commissioner may recover a commercial and industrial property tax liability from a vendor, including any amount identified on this Certificate.

Passing on commercial and industrial property tax to a purchaser

11. A vendor is prohibited from apportioning or passing on commercial and industrial property tax to a purchaser under a contract of sale of land entered into on or after 1 July 2024 where the purchase price is less than $10 million (to be indexed annually from 1 January 2025, as set out on the website for Consumer Affairs Victoria).

General information

12. Land enters the tax reform scheme if there is an entry transaction, entry consolidation or entry subdivision in respect of the land (within the meaning given to those terms in the CIPT Act). Land generally enters the reform on the date on which an entry transaction occurs in respect of the land (or the first date on which land from which the subject land was derived (by consolidation or subdivision) entered the reform).
13. The Duties Act includes exemptions from duty, in certain circumstances, for an eligible transaction (such as a transfer) of tax reform scheme land that has a qualifying use on the date of the transaction. The exemptions apply differently based on whether the entry interest in relation to the land was a whole interest or a partial interest. For more information, please refer to www.sro.vic.gov.au/CIPT.
14. A Certificate showing no liability for the land does not mean that the land is exempt from commercial and industrial property tax. It means that there is nothing to pay at the date of the Certificate.
15. An updated Certificate may be requested free of charge via our website, if:
 - the request is within 90 days of the original Certificate's issue date, and
 - there is no change to the parties involved in the transaction for which the Certificate was originally requested.

137B OWNER BUILDER DEFECTS REPORT

13/01/2026

Project Address: 4 Airlie Bank Road MORWELL VIC 3840

Report Reference: OBDR-2026-001

Building Consultants

Executive Summary

This report has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of Section 137B of the Building Act 1993 (VIC) and forms part of the documentation to be included in the Section 32 (Vendor's Statement) for the sale of the subject property. Where residential construction work has been undertaken by an owner-builder within the past 6 years and 6 months, Victorian legislation requires that a prescribed building practitioner carry out an inspection and produce a report disclosing any visible building defects or incomplete works associated with that construction.

The purpose of this report is to provide a factual, independent account of the condition of recent owner-builder works at the property. It is intended to assist prospective purchasers in making informed decisions and to support the vendor in fulfilling their legal duty of disclosure under the Building Act 1993.

This report addresses the following elements, as required by legislation:

- Identification of any defective work that is visible at the time of inspection;
- Identification of any incomplete or partially completed work;
- Notation of any second-hand or reclaimed materials used in the construction, where visually apparent.

Only building works carried out by the owner-builder within the statutory timeframe are considered within the scope of this report. All original or unrelated portions of the property, as well as normal wear and tear or general maintenance issues not attributable to the owner-builder works are excluded.

Under the Act, only a prescribed building practitioner may complete a 137B report. This includes registered building surveyors, building inspectors, architects or appropriately registered engineers. It is important to note that registered builders are not authorised to undertake or certify these inspections.

This report is based on a visual inspection of accessible areas nominated as part of the owner-builder works. It does not involve destructive testing, verification of regulatory compliance or certification of structural adequacy. Any limitations to access or visibility encountered during the inspection have been noted in the relevant sections of the report.

It is also noted that no building permit may not have been issued for certain works. As such, this report does not make any assertions regarding compliance with statutory building approvals for those elements.

This document is valid for a period of six months from the date of inspection and is intended solely for the purposes of vendor disclosure as required under Section 137B of the Building Act 1993. All observed issues have been detailed in the body of this report and are supported with photographic evidence for clarity and reference.

This report does not constitute a certificate of compliance or a comprehensive building condition report. Rather, it is a targeted disclosure document intended to assist in the lawful transfer of property where owner-builder works have been undertaken.

Introduction:

This report has been prepared on behalf of the property owner following instructions to carry out an Owner-Builder Defects Inspection in accordance with Section 137B of the Building Act 1993 (VIC). It applies to building works undertaken by an owner-builder at the subject property within the past six years and six months, as required for disclosure in the Section 32 Contract of Sale.

The inspection was visual and non-invasive in nature, limited to accessible areas of the owner-builder works. It focused on assessing the condition, workmanship and completeness of the works at the time of inspection and identifying any visible defects, incomplete building work or apparent use of second-hand or reclaimed materials.

This report is not a comprehensive pre-purchase building inspection and should not be relied upon to determine the property's overall condition or compliance with the Sale of Land Act 1962. It is strictly limited to fulfilling disclosure obligations under Section 137B of the Building Act and does not assess the broader suitability of the property for purchase.

All findings are documented in the relevant sections of this report and supported by photographic evidence where applicable.

Reasonable Access:

This inspection was limited to areas where reasonable access was available at the time of the site visit. In accordance with Australian Standard AS 4349.1, 'reasonable access' is defined as access that is safe, unobstructed and does not require the removal of fixtures or fittings or the use of destructive or invasive inspection methods.

Reasonable access does not include the removal of access panels, cutting of manholes or traps, moving of personal belongings, stored goods, heavy furniture or use of equipment beyond a standard 3.6 metre ladder.

Access limitations are defined by AS 4349.1 as follows:

Area:	Minimum Access Requirements (AS 4349.1):
Roof Exterior	Accessible from a 3.6 m ladder placed on the ground
Roof Cavity	400 mm x 500 mm access opening 600 mm x 600 mm crawl space Accessible from a 3.6m ladder
Subfloor Area	500 mm x 400 mm access opening Minimum clearance of 400 mm to underside of bearer or obstruction (timber floors) Minimum clearance of 500 mm (concrete floors)

Where the minimum clearances could not be achieved, the inspection was limited to components that were visible within the inspector's direct line of sight and accessible without the need for physical intrusion beyond arm's reach.

Areas Accessible:

Roof Exterior:	Accessible but no access required
Roof Cavity:	Accessible but limited
Wall Cavities:	Not accessible
Subfloor Area:	Not applicable
Internal Areas:	Accessible
External Areas:	Accessible but no access required
Wet Areas:	Accessible but no access required
Garages/Outbuildings:	Accessible but no access required

Details of Owner-Builder Building Work:

The following section outlines the scope and nature of building works carried out by the owner-builder at the subject property. These works fall within the definition of "construction" under Section 137B(7) of the Building Act 1993 (VIC), which includes building, rebuilding, erecting, altering, extending or managing any such work undertaken on a domestic building.

The works reported have been either:

- Declared by the owner at the time of inspection;
- Evident through visual observation; or
- Referenced in supporting documentation provided by the owner (e.g. plans, photos or building approvals).

Description of Owner-Builder Work: Internal alterations including kitchen renovation and removal of internal load bearing wall.

Location of Building Work: Internal

Approximate Completion Date: 6 years

Building Permit Issued? Yes No

If 'Yes', the Building Permit details are as followed:

Building Permit Number: Not applicable.

Building Permit Issue Date:

Relevant Building Surveyor:

CFI or OP Issue Date:

Description of Materials Used: The internal works utilise a timber post, timber beam, plasterboard, plaster cornice, timber skirting boards, general purposed paint for all walls and ceilings, timber laminate materials for cabinetry and benchtops, stainless steel sink and tapware and ceramic wall tiles.

Description of Connected Services: Electricity, gas, water supply, sewer and NBN.

Condition of Connected Services: Unknown

Summary of Observed Defects:

Item:	Location:	Defect:	Severity:
1	Internal Painting	Paint blemishes including marks, scuffs, starved areas and coarse brush marks. Cosmetic only; no risk associated.	Nil
2	Internal Fixings	Visible or separated mitre joins within the architraves. This is generally caused by natural timber shrinkage or minor movement of the building frame as it acclimatises after construction. Seasonal changes in temperature and humidity can also contribute to small gaps opening at join lines. Cosmetic only; no risk associated.	Nil
3	Kitchen Cabinetry	Very minor disfigurement to cabinetry, though still fully functional with no signs of binding or structural compromise. In addition, minor scuffs and scratches associated with everyday use. Cosmetic only; no risk associated.	Nil

Incomplete Building Work:

Item:	Location:	Incomplete Item:
1	Painting	Incomplete sealing and painting to wall and skirting board internal corner junction near the entryway, at the location of the former load-bearing wall/doorway opening.

Notes:

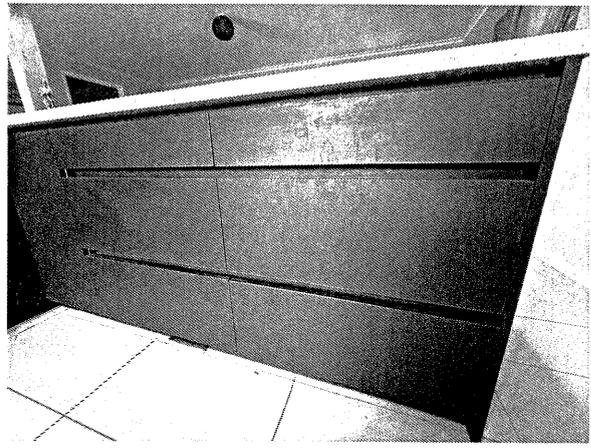

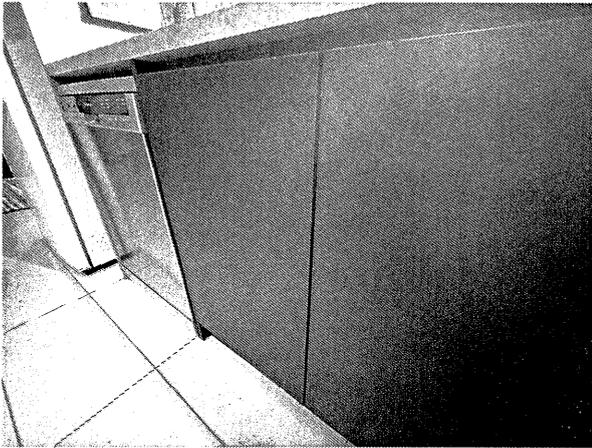

At the time of inspection, we were advised that an existing load-bearing wall had been removed to create an open connection between the kitchen and living areas of the dwelling. Where access was available within the roof cavity, the replacement structural member was viewed from an appropriate distance.

The beam installed at the location of the former load-bearing wall appears to be a laminated veneer lumber (LVL) beam. The beam appears to be supported by an existing wall at one end and a newly installed post within the kitchen area at the other. Based on a visual inspection only, no obvious signs of structural distress, such as excessive deflection, cracking, or movement, were observed at the time of inspection.

Generally, the removal of a load-bearing wall would require a building permit under Schedule 3 of the Building Act 1993 and would typically involve design and certification by a suitably qualified structural or civil engineer. It is noted that documentation confirming this was not available at the time of inspection.

No structural calculations, certifications or invasive inspections were undertaken as part of this assessment. Accordingly, this commentary is limited to the visible and accessible areas only.

Photographic Evidence:

Conclusion:

Based on the visual inspection of the declared owner-builder works, the items listed in this report have been identified as either defective, incomplete, or otherwise warranting further attention. These findings are made in accordance with the requirements of Section 137B of the Building Act 1993.

The defects noted relate solely to the areas of work undertaken by the owner-builder and do not extend to pre-existing conditions or unrelated portions of the building. All observations have been made from accessible areas at the time of inspection, without the use of invasive techniques.

Based on the observations made at the time of inspection, the items identified within the dwelling are predominantly cosmetic in nature and do not present a safety or structural risk. The noted defects, including minor paint blemishes, visible mitre joint separations, and minor cabinetry disfigurement, are consistent with general wear, natural material movement, and normal use.

One item of incomplete building work was identified, relating to incomplete sealing and painting at internal wall and skirting board junctions near the entryway, at the location of the former load-bearing wall/doorway opening. This item is considered cosmetic and does not affect the functionality or performance of the dwelling.

Structural alterations associated with the removal of a load-bearing wall were observed. Based on a limited visual inspection of accessible areas only, the installed LVL beam appears adequately supported, with no visible signs of structural distress noted at the time of inspection. However, as no permits, certifications, or structural documentation were available, and no invasive or engineering assessment was undertaken, the assessment is limited to visible conditions only.

Overall, the dwelling appears to be in generally satisfactory condition at the time of inspection, subject to the limitations outlined in this report.

Comments & Limitations of Report:

This report has been prepared strictly in accordance with the requirements of Section 137B of the Building Act 1993 (VIC). Its purpose is to document observable defects, incomplete building works, and the use of second-hand or reclaimed materials associated with building work undertaken by the owner-builder within the preceding six years and six months.

The following limitations apply to this report:

a) Scope of Inspection

- The inspection was conducted as a visual, non-invasive assessment. No destructive testing or dismantling of building elements was undertaken.
- The inspection was limited to those areas of the building that were readily and safely accessible at the time. Obstructed, concealed or locked areas could not be inspected.
- The inspection did not include any services or systems (e.g. electrical, plumbing, gas, heating, air conditioning, or appliances), nor does it assess compliance with energy efficiency requirements or bushfire attack level (BAL) ratings.

b) Extent of Reporting

- The report is not a comprehensive building condition report. It does not assess the condition of the entire property or evaluate building works not undertaken by the owner-builder.
- It does not constitute a pre-purchase building inspection report and should not be relied upon by prospective purchasers as such. Buyers are advised to undertake their own due diligence and independent pre-purchase inspections prior to purchase.
- The report does not assess the building for structural adequacy, compliance with the National Construction Code (NCC) or planning regulations, unless such matters are explicitly noted.

c) Access and Visibility

- Inspection was limited to areas with reasonable access, defined as areas where safe, unobstructed entry was possible and where the inspector could view the construction within line of sight and arm's reach.
- Areas that were inaccessible due to fixed ceilings, floor coverings, wall linings, furniture, stored goods, vegetation, or physical barriers were not inspected and are outside the scope of this report.

d) Time Sensitivity

- This report reflects the condition of the property at the time of inspection only. Conditions may change due to weather events, wear and tear or subsequent modifications. No responsibility is accepted for defects that develop or become apparent after the inspection date.

e) Reliance

- This report has been prepared for the exclusive use of the vendor for disclosure purposes under the Sale of Land Act 1962 and forms part of the Section 32 Vendor Statement. It may be provided to prospective purchasers, legal representatives, and conveyancers as required.
- No warranty or representation is made to third parties relying on this report for any purpose other than that for which it was originally prepared.

Disclaimer:

This report has been prepared exclusively for the purpose of fulfilling the statutory requirements of Section 137B of the Building Act 1993 and for inclusion in the Section 32 Vendor Statement as part of the sale of the property.

The inspection and report are limited to a visual, non-invasive assessment of the owner-builder works disclosed by the vendor and do not constitute a full building inspection or guarantee the structural integrity, safety or compliance of the entire property.

No liability is accepted for defects or issues that are concealed, inaccessible or that may arise subsequent to the date of inspection. This report does not cover environmental hazards, termite infestation, or compliance with planning or heritage regulations.

This report is not intended to be relied upon as a substitute for specialist inspections or professional advice in areas such as structural engineering, electrical, plumbing or pest inspections.

Prospective purchasers and other interested parties are advised to seek independent expert advice and carry out their own inspections prior to purchase.

Areas of Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Sensitivity

All or part of this property is an 'area of cultural heritage sensitivity'.

'Areas of cultural heritage sensitivity' are defined under the Aboriginal Heritage Regulations 2018, and include registered Aboriginal cultural heritage places and land form types that are generally regarded as more likely to contain Aboriginal cultural heritage.

Under the Aboriginal Heritage Regulations 2018, 'areas of cultural heritage sensitivity' are one part of a two part trigger which require a 'cultural heritage management plan' be prepared where a listed 'high impact activity' is proposed.

If a significant land use change is proposed (for example, a subdivision into 3 or more lots), a cultural heritage management plan may be triggered. One or two dwellings, works ancillary to a dwelling, services to a dwelling, alteration of buildings and minor works are examples of works exempt from this requirement.

Under the Aboriginal Heritage Act 2006, where a cultural heritage management plan is required, planning permits, licences and work authorities cannot be issued unless the cultural heritage management plan has been approved for the activity.

For further information about whether a Cultural Heritage Management Plan is required go to <https://heritage.achris.vic.gov.au/agvQuestion1.aspx>

What you need to know before buying a residential property

Before you buy a home, you should be aware of a range of issues that may affect that property and impose restrictions or obligations on you, if you buy it. This checklist aims to help you identify whether any of these issues will affect you. The questions are a starting point only and you may need to seek professional advice to answer some of them. You can find links to organisations and web pages that can help you learn more, by visiting the Due diligence checklist page on the Consumer Affairs Victoria website (consumer.vic.gov.au/duediligencechecklist).

Urban living

Moving to the inner city?

High density areas are attractive for their entertainment and service areas, but these activities create increased traffic as well as noise and odours from businesses and people. Familiarising yourself with the character of the area will give you a balanced understanding of what to expect.

Is the property subject to an owners corporation?

If the property is part of a subdivision with common property such as driveways or grounds, it may be subject to an owners corporation. You may be required to pay fees and follow rules that restrict what you can do on your property, such as a ban on pet ownership.

Growth areas

Are you moving to a growth area?

You should investigate whether you will be required to pay a growth areas infrastructure contribution.

Flood and fire risk

Does this property experience flooding or bushfire?

Properties are sometimes subject to the risk of fire and flooding due to their location. You should properly investigate these risks and consider their implications for land management, buildings and insurance premiums.

Rural properties

Moving to the country?

If you are looking at property in a rural zone, consider:

- Is the surrounding land use compatible with your lifestyle expectations? Farming can create noise or odour that may be at odds with your expectations of a rural lifestyle.
- Are you considering removing native vegetation? There are regulations which affect your ability to remove native vegetation on private property.
- Do you understand your obligations to manage weeds and pest animals?

Can you build new dwellings?

Does the property adjoin crown land, have a water frontage, contain a disused government road, or are there any crown licences associated with the land?

Is there any earth resource activity such as mining in the area?

You may wish to find out more about exploration, mining and quarrying activity on or near the property and consider the issue of petroleum, geothermal and greenhouse gas sequestration permits, leases and licences, extractive industry authorisations and mineral licences.

Soil and groundwater contamination

Has previous land use affected the soil or groundwater?

You should consider whether past activities, including the use of adjacent land, may have caused contamination at the site and whether this may prevent you from doing certain things to or on the land in the future.

Land boundaries

Do you know the exact boundary of the property?

You should compare the measurements shown on the title document with actual fences and buildings on the property, to make sure the boundaries match. If you have concerns about this, you can speak to your lawyer or conveyancer, or commission a site survey to establish property boundaries.

Planning controls

Can you change how the property is used, or the buildings on it?

All land is subject to a planning scheme, run by the local council. How the property is zoned and any overlays that may apply, will determine how the land can be used. This may restrict such things as whether you can build on vacant land or how you can alter or develop the land and its buildings over time.

The local council can give you advice about the planning scheme, as well as details of any other restrictions that may apply, such as design guidelines or bushfire safety design. There may also be restrictions – known as encumbrances – on the property's title, which prevent you from developing the property. You can find out about encumbrances by looking at the section 32 statement.

Are there any proposed or granted planning permits?

The local council can advise you if there are any proposed or issued planning permits for any properties close by. Significant developments in your area may change the local 'character' (predominant style of the area) and may increase noise or traffic near the property.

Safety

Is the building safe to live in?

Building laws are in place to ensure building safety. Professional building inspections can help you assess the property for electrical safety, possible illegal building work, adequate pool or spa fencing and the presence of asbestos, termites, or other potential hazards.

Building permits

Have any buildings or retaining walls on the property been altered, or do you plan to alter them?

There are laws and regulations about how buildings and retaining walls are constructed, which you may wish to investigate to ensure any completed or proposed building work is approved. The local council may be able to give you information about any building permits issued for recent building works done to the property, and what you must do to plan new work. You can also commission a private building surveyor's assessment.

Are any recent building or renovation works covered by insurance?

Ask the vendor if there is any owner-builder insurance or builder's warranty to cover defects in the work done to the property.

Utilities and essential services

Does the property have working connections for water, sewerage, electricity, gas, telephone and internet?

Unconnected services may not be available, or may incur a fee to connect. You may also need to choose from a range of suppliers for these services. This may be particularly important in rural areas where some services are not available.

Buyers' rights

Do you know your rights when buying a property?

The contract of sale and section 32 statement contain important information about the property, so you should request to see these and read them thoroughly. Many people engage a lawyer or conveyancer to help them understand the contracts and ensure the sale goes through correctly. If you intend to hire a professional, you should consider speaking to them before you commit to the sale. There are also important rules about the way private sales and auctions are conducted. These may include a cooling-off period and specific rights associated with 'off the plan' sales. The important thing to remember is that, as the buyer, you have rights.
