Rental performance is shaped by far more than just comparable figures. When assessing a property's position within the market, we look at how the home presents as a complete offering including its layout, liveability, presentation, location and the type of lifestyle it offers to prospective tenants.
We also consider:

- Recent leasing results for comparable homes
- Current rental competition within the area
- Tenant enquiry levels and vacancy trends
- Overall presentation, functionality and maintenance appeal
- Accessibility, surrounding amenities and broader area growth
- The type of properties tenants are currently responding strongly to within the market
- Our direct experience leasing and managing homes throughout the Hunter Region

The property is currently leased at $670.00 per week, with the existing agreement in place until February 2027.

Based on the current market and comparable leasing evidence, we estimate the achievable rental return for this property to be within the range of $670.00 - $690.00 per week. In the current market, homes that feel well considered, easy to maintain and genuinely comfortable to live in are continuing to attract strong tenant attention. Properties that combine functionality with location and overall presentation are consistently seeing solid enquiry and leasing activity across the region.
